JERRY BUSS

Jerry Buss purchased the Los Angeles Lakers, the Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League, The Forum and a 13,000-acre Kern County ranch in June, 1979, for $67.5 million in what was the largest sports transaction of all-time.

In the 13 years of his ownership, the Lakers have enjoyed an era of success the rival of any in professional sports. In this span, the Lakers have won five world championships and reached the world-championship series nine times. They have won 70 percent of their games, averaging almost 60 wins a season and are 29-8 in playoff series.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming with a Bachelor's Degree, Buss earned his Ph.D. in Chemistry from the University Of Southern California. After a brief career in the aerospace industry, Buss and Frank Mariani, an aerospace engineer, used their scientific training and facility with mathematics to launch a career in real estate. They parlayed an original $1,000 investment in a West Los Angeles apartment building into what became a multi-hundred million dollar real-estate business at its height.

However, since his emergence into major league sports, Buss has reduced his involvement in real estate and has increased his activity in sports. He has initiated many innovative changes in the marketing of the Lakers and other events at the Forum, including a major advertising agreement with Great Western Bank that has resulted in the facility being renamed The Great Western Forum.

In 1985, Buss and Bill Daniels launched Prime Ticket Network, now one of the premier regional sports cable television networks.

Buss's four adult children are involved in his business operations. Jeanie is President of Forum Championship Tennis, Inc. and Team Cup Volleyball, Inc. She stages and promotes such events as the Forum Challenge Tennis Series and Los Angeles Strings Team Tennis matches as well as national and international volleyball events which are held at the Great Western Forum. As Director of Special Events, Janie directs the Great Western Freeze-Out college hockey tournament, the rodeo and other events. Jim presides over the World Championship Stables, the Buss thoroughbred horse racing operation, while John heads up selected special activities his father is involved with, including last summer's "A Magic Weekend" card and sports memorabilia show, which raised money for AIDS research.

Jerry Buss has great feeling for people and is an active supporter of literally hundreds of charitable and community serving organizations yearly. He is most diligent in his support of education and of the disadvantaged young and elderly.

JERRY WEST

Entering his eleventh year as General Manager of the Lakers, Jerry West has proven to be every bit as successful in the club's front office as he once was in their backcourt. During his prosperous tenure, the Lakers have averaged more than 58 wins a season, the most of any NBA club in that period.

However, success within the marriage of Jerry West and the Lakers is nothing new. Since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles in 1960, the club has qualified for post-season play in all but two seasons, and those were the only two seasons (1974-75 and 1975-76) in which he was not affiliated with the club.

Fittingly dubbed "Mr. Clutch" because of his uncanny ability to produce with the game on the line, West established himself as one of the greatest players in NBA history throughout his brilliant 14-year career. Spending each of those 14 years with the Lakers, he led the team in scoring seven times, averaging over 30 points four different seasons. When he retired following the 1973-74 campaign, he had become only the third player in league history to surpass the 25,000 point plateau, finishing with a career scoring average of 27.0, which ranks fourth-best in NBA history.

The Lakers' all-time scoring leader with 25,192 points, West was the NBA's all-time playoff leader in points (4,457) and assists (970) until Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Earvin Johnson, respectively, eclipsed his totals. His 29.1 playoff scoring average is second highest in NBA history, trailing only Chicago's Michael Jordan (34.6).

Among West's most memorable accomplishments were compiling a 40.6 scoring average during the 1965 playoffs, and sinking a 60-foot shot to send Game 3 of the 1970 Championship Series against the New York Knicks into overtime.

In addition to being selected to the All-NBA first team 10 times and the NBA's All-Defensive first team four times, West was selected to play in 13 consecutive All-Star Games during his career, capturing MVP honors in the 1972 classic at The Forum. Elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979 and named to the NBA's 35th Anniversary Team in 1980, Jerry also has the distinction of being named playoff MVP in 1969 despite playing for the losing team.

After retiring prior to the 1974-75 season, he returned to the Lakers for the 1976-77 campaign, replacing Bill Sharman as the club's head coach. In his initial year as coach, the Lakers posted an NBA-best 53-29 record and began what is now the longest active streak in the league, qualifying for the playoffs for the first of 16 consecutive seasons. Overall, the Lakers posted a 145-101 record during his three seasons at the helm.

Following the 1978-79 campaign, West served the Lakers for three years as a special consultant, with the primary responsibility of scouting college players. Prior to the 1982-83 season he was elevated to his present position as the club's General Manager, where he oversees the day-to-day operation of the club and all player personnel decisions.

West attended West Virginia University, where he was a two-time All-American before becoming the Lakers' first pick in the 1960 college draft. Before entering the NBA, Jerry served as co-captain of the gold-medal winning U.S. Olympic basketball team in Rome in 1960, a squad generally touted as the greatest in Olympic history prior to the formation of the "Dream Team" last summer. He was also a member of the victorious U.S. squad in the 1958 Pan American Games.

Born on May 28, 1938 in Chelyan, West Virginia, West first drew national attention as a high school star. As a senior at East Bank High School, he led his team to the state title and became the first player in the state's history to score over 900 points in a season, averaging 32.2.

Jerry and his wife, Karen, reside in Bel Air with their sons, Ryan and Jonathan. Jerry has three other sons, David, Mark and Michael, from a previous marriage.

MITCHELL KUPCHAK

Beginning his seventh season as the Lakers' Assistant General Manager, Mitch Kupchak continues to provide the club with his invaluable knowledge of the NBA and its players, in addition to the utilization of his top-notch management skills. As Jerry West's right-hand man, Mitch is highly regarded among his peers, having established himself as one of the top assistant GM's in the league.

His main priorities range from the organization of the club's training camp and pre-season schedule, to overseeing the Lakers' entry in the annual Southern California Summer Pro League. He also assists in the day-to-day management of the club and the scouting of collegiate players.

Mitch was a first-round draft choice of the Washington Bullets in 1976, the 13th player selected overall. He spent the first five years of his career with the Bullets, playing a major role in Washington's drive to the NBA championship in 1978. One of only 15 players in NBA history to have played on a World Championship team with two different franchises, Mitch enjoyed his finest season during the 1977-78 campaign, averaging a career-high 15.9 points.

Following his stint with the Bullets, Mitch was acquired by the Lakers on August 5, 1981 in exchange for Jim Chones, Brad Holland and two draft picks. He was a starter for the Lakers during the first 26 games of the 1981-82 campaign, averaging 14.3 points and 8.1 rebounds before suffering multiple injuries to his left knee which required two surgeries. It was feared, even expected, that he would never play again, but Mitch proved the doctors wrong by returning to the Lakers in November of 1983 after undergoing daily therapy for 16 months. After averaging 5.3 points in 58 regular season games during the 1984-85 season, he played a vital role in the Lakers' march to the NBA title in 1985.

Prior to the start of the 1986-87 campaign, after another lengthy rehabilitation following arthroscopic knee surgery, Mitch retired as a player and assumed his present position.

When Mitch signed to play with the Lakers in the summer of 1981, one of the provisions in his long-term contract was that he would continue to work for Lakers owner Dr. Jerry Buss in some capacity following his playing career. In preparation for that career move, he studied for an MBA degree at UCLA during his spare time, and received that degree in February, 1987.

Mitch was born in Hicksville, New York on May 24, 1954 and starred at Brentwood High School on Long Island. He was an All-America standout at the University of North Carolina, and was named ACC Player of the Year as a senior. He was the starting center on the gold-medal winning U.S. team in the 1976 Olympics, and was also a member of the gold-medal winning U.S. team in the 1973 World University Games.

Mitch married the former Claire Jacobs last August. The newlyweds live in Brentwood with their lovable dog, Sidney.

MICHAEL COOPER

Continuing to exhibit the tireless enthusiasm and energy he displayed on the court for 12 brilliant seasons, Michael Cooper begins his second year in the club's front office, serving as Special Assistant to General Manager Jerry West.

One of the most popular players in Laker franchise history, Cooper returned to the organization last year following a one year sabbatical. During his absence, the Pasadena native concluded his playing career in Italy, playing for Il Messagero Roma of the Italian League during the 1990-91 season.

Cooper's duties include the scouting of college and CBA players, participating in summer league activities, and assisting the coaching staff in practices and evaluation of talent. He is also actively involved in community service work, where he represents the Lakers as a guest speaker at civic and charity events. In addition, he is involved in sponsor relations and marketing activities for the club.

Cooper first came to the Lakers in 1978 as a third-round draft choice from the University of New Mexico, where he earned All-America honors as a senior. Prior to that, he played two years at Pasadena City College.

Cooper was a vital member of five World Championship teams with the Lakers (1980, 1982, 1985, 1987, 1988) and retired after the 1990 season ranked near the top in a number of Lakers all-time statistical categories: 1st in 3FGs; 3rd in games; 5th in minutes; 2nd in steals; 3rd in blocked shots; 4th in assists; 5th in defensive rebounds; 7th in offensive rebounds; and 6th in FT%. He also retired as the NBA's all-time playoff leader in 3FGs made and attempted and 4th in NBA playoff games played.

He was best known for his tenacious defense however, and was dubbed by retired Boston Celtics superstar Larry Bird as the greatest defensive player he had ever competed against. He was voted onto the NBA All-Defensive Team eight times and named the NBA's Defensive Player of the Year in 1987.

The 36 year-old Cooper runs an annual summer camp for children in Albuquerque, New Mexico, as his involvement in charity work extends back to his rookie year as a player. His efforts in community and charity work were so exceptional, in fact, that he was honored in 1986 as co-recipient (with Rory Sparrow) of the NBA's J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award.

Michael and his wife, Wanda, live in Los Angeles with their daughter, Simone, and their sons, Michael II and Miles.

BILL SHARMAN

Currently in his third season as a special consultant, Bill Sharman served as the Lakers' coach, general manager and president from 1971 until he retired in 1988 after the club had presented him with his 12th pro basketball championship. The dozen championships have been spread over four teams in three leagues from four different perspectives.

Four came when he was a player for the Boston Celtics; three came as a coach: 1962 with the Cleveland Pipers of the American Basketball League; 1971 with the Utah Stars of the American Basketball Association and in 1972 as coach of the Lakers, the NBA's all-time winningest team. His remaining five rings came as GM and President of the Lakers in the 1980s.

Perhaps the greatest shooter of his day, Sharman was the first guard to shoot .400 from the floor and his .884 career free throw percentage is still among the league's all-time leaders. He was named to the All-NBA team seven times in his 10-year playing career and was an eight-time All-Star. He was elected into the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1974.

Bill and his wife, Joyce, live in Marina del Rey. He has two daughters, Nancy and Janice, and two sons, Tom and Jerry, from a previous marriage.

RANDY PFUND

When former Lakers coach Pat Riley attempted to persuade Randy Pfund - one of his former assistants - to join him in a similar capacity with the New York Knicks in the summer of 1991, the flattered Lakers assistant coach cordially rejected the offer.

Generally regarded as one of the bright, young assistants in the NBA at the time, Randy displayed his loyalty to the Lakers, electing to stay with the franchise that gave him his initial NBA job back in 1985. The Wheaton, Illinois native firmly believed that if he stayed with a successful organization such as the Lakers long enough, that his day in the sun would eventually come.

He was right. When Mike Dunleavy decided to accept an offer from Milwaukee to become the Bucks' head coach, Lakers' General Manager Jerry West simply looked down the hall from his office to find a worthy and deserving candidate.

On May 18, 1992, the Lakers named the 40-year old Pfund as the club's 10th head coach in Los Angeles franchise history. He becomes the Lakers' third successive head coach to enter the position without any previous head coaching experience at any level, excluding high school.

In the mid-1970's, Randy found himself working as a high school teacher and coach in Illinios. While serving in that capacity for two years, he wrote approximately 30 letters to selected college coaches around the country, inquiring about the possibility of working as a graduate assistant. Of the responses he received, only one offered any form of hope, and that came from the coach at Westmont College in Santa Barbara, Chet Kammerer.

Kammerer, who 15 years later finds himself as an assistant under Pfund with the Lakers, explained in his reply to Randy that he would be welcomed to join the staff - as an unpaid volunteer assistant. Figuring the gamble was worth the risk, Randy quit his job in Illinois and headed West. During his third year at Westmont, he joined the staff on a full-time basis.

While at Westmont, Randy became familiar with another Santa Barbara resident involved with coaching, Bill Bertka, who hired Pfund on a part-time basis for his scouting service. Impressed with his work, Bertka recommended Pfund to then Lakers coach Pat Riley when Dave Wohl resigned as a Laker assistant prior to the 1985-86 season. Riley eventually hired Randy, citing his scouting and administrative experience as major factors in the decision. He remained in that position for seven years.

As a youngster, Randy starred in basketball and football at North High School in Wheaton, Illinois. He earned honorable mention All-America honors in basketball at Wheaton College, where his father, Lee, was head coach.

Randy is single and lives in Santa Monica.

BILL BERTKA

Having been associated with the game of basketball for 40-plus seasons, long-time Lakers' assistant Bill Bertka spearheads coach Randy Pfund's support staff with a wealth of experience that is duplicated by few in the profession.

The veteran assistant coach has enjoyed a long and distinguished career, which began as a player at Kent State University. Following a stint playing in the now-defunct National Industrial Basketball League, Bill embarked on what would be a fulfilling career in the coaching and scouting aspects of the business.

He served as head coach at Hancock College in Santa Maria from 1954-57, leading the team to a 42-game winning streak, a 97-13 record overall and a Junior College State Championship in 1957. He returned to his alma mater, where he served as head coach for four years and helped elevate Kent State's program to the major-college level.

Bill, 65, is actually in his second tour of duty with the Lakers. He originally joined the club in 1968, serving as the club's chief scout and director of player personnel, a position he held for six years. He did an abundance of scouting for the 1971-72 Lakers team that posted an all-time NBA-best 69-13 record and won a professional sports record 33 consecutive games. In 1974, Bertka joined the expansion New Orleans Jazz and served the club in a variety of roles, including that of general manager, director of player personnel and assistant coach. He was the primary architect for the Jazz franchise during the first eight years of the team's existence, before rejoining the Lakers early in the 1981-82 campaign.

The Santa Barbara native is well known as the founder of Bertka Views, one of the most successful college scouting services in the country, now operated by his wife, Solveig. Many of the nation's premier college basketball programs utilize Bertka Views as their sole scouting service. In the early 1980s, Bill added an eager youngster by the name of Randy Pfund to his scouting staff, a decision that later helped the would-be Laker coach land his initial NBA job.

This past summer, Bill added another feather to his cap, serving as a scout for the United States' Olympic basketball team at the European Qualifying Tournament in Zaragoza, Spain.

Bill had the double distinction in 1989 of being inducted into a Hall of Fame in each of his hometowns. In May, he was inducted into the Santa Barbara Sports Hall of Fame, where he makes his present home. In October, he was inducted into the Summit County (Ohio) Sports Hall of Fame, where he grew up as a child.

Bill and Solveig have two daughters, Britt and Kris, and make their home in Santa Barbara.

LARRY DREW

After taking a one-year hiatus from the rigors of the NBA, Larry Drew returns this season as an assistant coach with the Lakers. As the lone member of the coaching staff with NBA playing experience, Drew brings a wealth of professional on-court experience to coach Randy Pfund's staff, including his familiarity with the Lakers' system. In addition to his coaching duties with the Lakers, Larry will be responsible for the team's advance scouting, spending a good portion of his time on the road analyzing upcoming opponents.

Prior to beginning a successful 10-year NBA career, Drew was an honorable mention All-American at the University of Missouri (1976-80), averaging a career best 15.2 points during his junior season. He finished his collegiate career having started a school record 104 consecutive games, ranking first all-time in Tiger history in assists and second all-time in points.

Drew, 34, was originally a first round draft choice of the Detroit Pistons in 1980, the 17th player chosen overall. After spending his initial professional campaign with the Pistons, he spent subsequent seasons in Kansas City, Sacramento and Los Angeles (Clippers and Lakers). Larry enjoyed his most prosperous NBA campaign in 1982-83, averaging a career-high 20.1 points per game with Kansas City.

Following a year with Scavolini Pesaro of the Italian League (1988-89), Larry concluded his NBA career with the Lakers, playing a backup role on both the 1989-90 and 1990-91 clubs. Larry played in a total of 714 NBA contests, averaging 11.4 points and 5.2 assists.

This past year, he served as Vice President of the Magic Johnson Foundation, Inc. In that capacity, Larry was responsible for managing the activities of the foundation, including fund raising, AIDS education awareness and the distribution of grants.

Larry and his wife, Sharon, live in Encino with their only child, Larry Donnell II.

CHET KAMMERER

When an aspiring young basketball coach by the name of Randy Pfund began sending letters to various college coaches around the country in hopes of landing a job back in the mid-1970's, he received only one positive response — from Chet Kammerer, the head coach at Westmont College in Santa Barbara.

Some 15 years later, that reply turned out to be one of the best moves the 50 year-old Kammerer has ever made. When Pfund, who served as an assistant under Kammerer at Westmont for eight years, was named head coach of the Lakers last spring, he tapped his friend and former mentor to join him in the NBA.

Kammerer brings a wealth of coaching experience to the Lakers, having spent 27 years as a head coach at the collegiate level. For the last 17 years, he served as Head Coach and Athletic Director at Westmont, where his teams recorded a 359-156 record and won five NAIA District 3 Championships. During his tenure at Westmont, Chet was named Coach of the year 13 times by various organizations.

As Athletic Director, he brought success to the Westmont athletic program, as the school captured 2 NAIA national championships and 33 District 3 titles. Instrumental in establishing the Golden State Athletic Conference, Chet was named chairman of the District 3 Executive Committee, a post he held from 1987-1990.

Prior to accepting the Westmont job in 1975, the Warsaw, Indiana native began his head coaching career in 1965 at Grace College (IN), where his clubs posted a 183-100 mark during his 10-year stay at the school. In compiling an overall 542-256 coaching record (.679), Chet's collegiate teams averaged over 20 victories a season.

Born July 24, 1942, Chet received his bachelor's degree from Grace College in 1964 and his master's from Ball State in 1966. He was a three-year basketball letterman at Grace, scoring an Indiana Inter-Collegiate single-season record 737 points in 1964. Additionally, he was named NAIA honorable mention All-American in 1964 and was named to the All-Conference team from 1961-64.

Chet and his wife, Sherill live in Santa Barbara with their three children, Chad, Shanda and Shariss.

RONNIE LESTER

Beginning his fifth season as a scout for the Lakers, Ronnie Lester will continue to work out of his home in Skokie, Illinois, where he is responsible for scouting collegiate talent, primarily in the Midwest part of the country.

Ronnie earned All-America honors at the University of Iowa, where the Hawkeyes retired his uniform after he became the school's all-time leader in scoring and assists. He was a first-round draft choice of the Portland Trail Blazers in 1980 (10th overall) and was traded on draft day to his hometown of Chicago to play for the Bulls. He played with Chicago for four years, enjoying his best season in 1981-82 when he averaged 11.6 points and 4.8 assists, starting 74 of 75 outings.

Ronnie spent the final two seasons of his injury-plagued, six-year, NBA career with the Lakers. He signed as a free agent with the club on November 29, 1984 and appeared in 59 regular-season and nine playoff games during his two seasons with the Lakers, and was a member of the club's 1985 NBA Championship team.

Ronnie and his girlfriend, Lois, live with their daughter, Alexis, in Skokie, Illinois.

GARY VITTI

Gary Vitti, who enters his ninth season as the Lakers' trainer, monitors the club throughout the year, not just the season, using state-of-the-art methods in conditioning, dieting, stretching and testing.

The 38-year old native of Stamford, Connecticut is responsible for the care, prevention and treatment of injuries to Laker players, assuring the coaching staff that each athlete is in the best possible condition when called upon. However, his duties don't end there. He oversees the club's transportation and accommodations on the road, as well as arranging the team's practice schedule.

Gary earned his B.S. degree from Southern Connecticut State in 1976 and his M.S. degree in sports medicine from the University of Utah in 1982.

In addition to studying at the University of Utah, he spent two years as the school's trainer in addition to working as an assistant trainer with the NBA's Utah Jazz (1981-1982). Following his stint with the Jazz, Gary then served as head athletic trainer at the University of Portland for two years before joining the Lakers prior to the 1984-85 campaign. He was named the National Basketball Association's Trainer of the Year in 1991 by the NBA's Trainers Association.

Having earned a reputation as one of top trainers in the country, Gary's services are well in demand. Complementing his NBA duties, he has also served as lead trainer for numerous other sporting events since 1984, including Los Angeles Strings Tennis, the Los Angeles Summer Pro League and several summer basketball camps throughout the country. Additionally, he is a frequent visitor on the lecture tour, sharing his wisdom at a number of athletic seminars and workshops each year.

Gary has also supervised physiological profile studies published in English and Japanese and has written a monthly column for "Sports Medicine Digest." He also wrote a sports medicine column for the Los Angeles Times syndicate two years ago and produced a conditioning video last summer called "Training for Excellence."

Gary and his wife Chris live in Manhattan Beach with their two daughters, Rachel and Emilia.

GENE TORMOHLEN

Although his efficient scouting reports throughout the years have been extremely important to the success of the Lakers, Gene Tormohlen would probably have a difficult time getting into a Lakers game in Los Angeles without a credential. The Lakers long-time scout lives in Georgia and, despite his anonymity among Laker fans, his diligent work behind the scenes has proven to be a vital contribution to the club over the past nine seasons.

"Bumper", as he is known throughout the NBA, is beginning his 25th season in the scouting business. He served as an assistant coach and scout with the Atlanta Hawks for eight years and as a scout with the Chicago Bulls for seven seasons before joining the Lakers prior to the 1983-84 campaign.

The 6'9" native of Holland, Indiana was a two-time All-SEC performer at Tennessee, serving as captain of the Vols as a senior. Gene played for the St. Louis Hawks for six years, retiring when the club moved to Atlanta in 1968.

He also played with the amateur Cleveland Pipers of the National Industrial Basketball League, leading the team to league and AAU titles in his second season, and played with the Kansas City Steers of the American Basketball League for two years.

Gene works out of his home in Lawrenceville, Georgia, where he lives with his wife, Julie, and two children, Gina and Tommy.

STU LANTZ

As he did as a backcourt partner of former NBA great "Pistol" Pete Maravich, Lakers commentator Stu Lantz finds himself working alongside another legend - play-by-play man Chick Hearn. And, as with Maravich, Stu has adapted extremely well, knowing precisely when to get his shots in.

As Stu begins his sixth year alongside Hearn, his insight has been a valuable part of each Laker broadcast. In fact, Stu has amassed somewhat of a consecutive game streak himself, having not missed a broadcast since his appointment prior to the 1987-88 campaign (481 including playoffs).

A graduate of the University of Nebraska in 1968, Stu concluded his collegiate career with 1,269 career points and was an All-Big Eight selection twice. On October 17, 1989, during halftime ceremonies of the Lakers/Suns preseason game in Lincoln, Nebraska, the Cornhuskers officially retired his #22 jersey.

Stu was originally a third round draft choice of the San Diego Rockets in 1968. He spent his first three seasons in San Diego and enjoyed his best pro campaign in 1970-71, averaging a career-high 20.6 points for the Rockets.

He also played for the Detroit Pistons and New Orleans Jazz before being traded to the Lakers in December of 1974. Stu appeared in 109 regular season games for the Lakers between 1974-76, sitting out the 1976-77 campaign due to a back injury before announcing his retirement. Immediately following his playing career, he embarked on a broadcasting career. He served as a commentator for the San Diego Clippers, San Diego State University, UNLV and CBS. This past spring, Stu served as color commentator on the NBA Radio Network throughout the NBA playoffs.

Stu also stays close to the game in the summer by assisting in the operation of the renowned Pete Newell Big-Man Camp, as well as a shooting camp in the San Diego area.

Stu and his wife, Linda, live in San Diego with their three children, Todd, Kristin and Shane.

CHICK HEARN

Chick Hearn, the only play-by-play man the club has had since moving to Los Angeles, enters his 33rd season of providing his colorful "words-eye-view." Still chirping enthusiastically after all these years, Chick begins the 1992-93 campaign with a string of 2,523 consecutive Laker broadcasts (regular season and playoffs), having last missed a game in November of 1965.

On March 13, 1992, Chick reached a seemingly impossible milestone, broadcasting his 2,500th consecutive game, a 109-107 Lakers overtime loss at Cleveland. Having been blessed with good health (although he has broadcast many games when he was ill), the Aurora, Illinois native considers that accomplishment to be the highlight of his career.

During the Lakers' initial season in Los Angeles (1960-61 season), the club did not broadcast a single regular season game on the radio. However, when the playoffs began, so did Chick's storied Laker announcing career.

Born Francis Dayle Hearn, Chick grew up in Aurora, Illinois and attended Bradley University. He was given the nickname "Chick" when, as an AAU basketball player, he was handed a box of sneakers only to be surprised to find a chicken inside.

Chick came to Los Angeles in 1956 to broadcast USC football and basketball and later did a nightly radio sports show that earned him two Emmy Awards in the 1960's. He joined the Lakers shortly thereafter, personally witnessing the careers of players from Jerry West to Magic Johnson and, of course, six NBA championships.

Although best-known for his work with the Lakers, Chick has broadcast an assortment of sporting events, including NCAA and NFL football, UNLV basketball, PGA golf tournaments, the first Ali-Frazier fight, the Rose Bowl, professional tennis and Bowling for Dollars. In addition to Lakers radio/TV simulcasts, Chick also broadcasts Forum boxing on the Prime Ticket Network.

Nationally known and respected, Chick spent part of last summer providing the fans of North America with his colorful commentary, broadcasting games for the gold-medal winning United States' Olympic basketball team in Barcelona, Spain.

Chick's near-non-stop work schedule also includes numerous commercials and movie spots and he's a popular after-dinner speaker. Seven years ago, he recorded a hit rap record, "Wrap Around", and he also helped create "Chick's Dream Game" fantasy tapes. He has received a Golden Mike Award and has twice been named National Sportscaster of the Year.

Included among Chick's other career highlights are "Chick Hearn Night", which the team held in his honor on March 28, 1981, and the rainy day in the fall of 1986, when a star bearing his name was installed on Hollywood Boulevard's "Walk of Fame."

Chick and his wife, Marge, live in Encino.

NBA'S NATIONAL PUBLIC SERVICE PROGRAMS

The NBA, its teams and players share a commitment to supporting and improving the quality of life in their communities. On a national level, the NBA is involved in numerous public service initiatives.

Since 1989, the NBA and the National Basketball Players Association have worked to draw attention to this county's alarming drop-out statistics through the national NBA Stay in School program. Created to urge students to graduate from high school, the Stay in School program uses the popularity and visibility of NBA players and coaches to encourage young people to develop self-esteem, set goals, and dedicate themselves to learning.

Through public service announcements on TV and radio and other awareness-building projects, the NBA and its players also support the work of the Special Olympics, CARE, the National Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Operation Prom/Graduation, a program that urges high school students to celebrate an alcohol-free prom and graduation season. The NBA also produces and airs PSAs saluting the birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and celebrating Black History Month each February. During the 1991-92 season, the wives of NBA players and coaches developed a national program to highlight the importance of breast cancer screening for women.

■ Bob Lanier, Stay in School Chairman

LAKERS' COMMUNITY RELATIONS

STAY IN SCHOOL: The Lakers have followed the lead of the NBA with an extensive Stay in School program involving 10 school districts in the Los Angeles area. Last year's program culminated with a one-hour "JAM" at the Great Western Forum. Over 4,000 junior high students were chosen to attend, based on their improved attendance, classwork, and behavior. Not only did Laker sponsors distribute everything form t-shirts to water bottles, but the entire team and local celebrities congratulated the deserving students and encouraged them to "STAY IN SCHOOL."

HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAM: High school students submitted essays, transcripts and letters of recommendation for an opportunity to win a $500 CD from Great Western Bank. Eight students were selected based on academics and community involvement. Students were honored during several halftime ceremonies posing for photos with program chairman, Sam Perkins.

I'M A LAKERS FAN: Complimentary game tickets are distributed to schools, parks and other organizations throughout Los Angeles county.

IN-ARENA SILENT AUCTIONS: During a selected number of games in 1991-92, sports memorabilia from the visiting team and Lakers was auctioned off to fans. The program, sponsored by Great Western Bank, raised over $50,000, which was donated to the Magic Johnson Foundation.

COMMUNITY CLINIC: Last season, James Worthy, Byron Scott and Rory Sparrow spent an afternoon at a local housing project, Nickerson Gardens, distributing basketball shoes donated by Footlocker, shooting jumpers and encouraging kids to be the best at whatever they decide to do. Worthy was surprised when 200 kids in attendance brought out a huge birthday cake and sang happy birthday to him.

POSTPONE THAT VACATION -AGAIN: The Lakers made their 16th consecutive post-season appearance last spring, the longest active streak in the NBA. Only the Philadelphia 76ers, with 22 consecutive appearances (1949-50 through 1970-71), and the Boston Celtics, with 19 straight post-season berths (1950 through 1968-69), have appeared in more consecutive post-seasons than the Lakers' current streak. Additionally, the Lakers have failed to qualify for the playoffs on only three occasions during their existence: 1958, 1975 and 1976.

Scouting Report

Call these two the "Dynamic Duo!" The Corolla's a model of consistency, maybe the most complete package around. The 4WD Deluxe Pickup delivers pure muscle — powerful, quick, and not afraid of a challenge. Plus, they've both got the drive and winning attitude that make them a perfect match for the Lakers.

Super performers!

Can't miss!

The all-new Corolla and the tough 4WD Deluxe Pickup. Like all Toyotas, they love to get out on the "fast break."

Toyota is a proud sponsor of the Los Angeles Lakers, and the Official Car and Truck of the Great Western Forum.

"I love what you do for me."

1967 —Plagued by injuries that keep West out of the lineup for 15 games and Baylor out for 11, the Lakers slide to third place in the Western Division. Playoffs: West manages to play in only one playoff game and the Lakers bow to San Francisco (0-3) in the opening round.

1968 —WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Under new coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, Lakers roll to division title despite absence of West for 31 games during regular season...Baylor leads the team in scoring , rebounding and assists ...Playoffs: Lakers sweep by Chicago (4-1) and San Francisco (4-0), but lose to Boston (2-4) in championship.

1979—West completes three-year reign as coach with 47-35 record and playoff elimination by Seattle for second straight year. Dr. Arthur Bartner, USC Band Director

THE LAKERS BAND

The Los Angeles Lakers Band is comprised of members of the University of Southern California Marching Band and they have been performing at Lakers games since the 1979-80 season.

The USC Band has been under the direction of Dr. Art Bartner since 1969. Under his leadership, the Trojan Marching Band has become one of the country's most visible and active collegiate band programs. To assist the dedicated student band members, the Arthur C. Bartner Endowment was established initially through a significant contribution by Lakers owner Jerry Buss. A Jerry Buss/Los Angeles Lakers Award, in the form of a scholarship, is given annually to a deserving band member.

The 25 piece Lakers Band ensemble will continue to entertain Lakers fans this season with an array of familiar tunes.

Won 14, Lost 12; Home: 8-5; Away: 6-7

In each of the last 14 NBA seasons, the eventual champion has been the team with the best or second-best record during the regular season. The team with the best regular-season record in each of the last 13 years has won more than 60 games. In eight of those 13 years, the team with the best regular-season mark capitalized on a home-court advantage throughout the playoffs and went on to capture the NBA title.

THE GREAT WESTERN FORUM

. . . Home of the Lakers

Ground Breaking:	July 1, 1966	Basketball Capacity:	17,505
First Event:	December 30, 1967	Hockey:	16,005
	Flyers 2, Kings 2	Conventions:	19,385
First Lakers Game:	December 31, 1967	Boxing:	18,780
	Lakers 147, Rockets 118	Concerts:	19,000

From its ground breaking in 1966 it was The Forum, until December of 1988 when as the result of a major advertising agreement, the home of the Los Angeles Lakers was renamed The Great Western Forum.

The Lakers have won over 77 percent of their regular season and playoff games in The Forum since defeating the San Diego Rockets on December 31, 1967.

In 1988 the Lakers celebrated their 20th anniversary in their Inglewood home by winning the NBA title on The Forum floor for the second year in a row and the fourth time in club history.

NBA Championships aren't the only historic sporting events to be staged in the facility built by Jack Kent Cooke. On September 10, 1973, the largest live boxing gate ever on the West Coast, $475,640, was recorded when Muhammad Ali defeated Ken Norton. The first Forum concert paired Tony Bennett and Duke Ellington in 1968, and hundreds of major acts have followed. In 1989, Neil Diamond played to a record-breaking 10 sold-out performances in The Great Western Forum.

Another distinction came to The Forum in 1984 when it served as the venue for men's and women's basketball competition in the games of the XXIII Olympiad. In 1982 and again in 1989, the Los Angeles Kings skated to Miracles on Manchester I and II.

In 1979 Jerry Buss purchased The Forum from Cooke along with the Lakers and Kings for $67.5 million in what was then the largest sports transaction in history.

Annually two and one-half million spectators attend over 200 events. Since the Forum opened its doors, more than 57 million fans have been attracted to its events.

Centinela Hospital Medical Center
The Official Hospital of the Los Angeles Lakers

When the Lakers sought to protect the health and enhance the fitness of its players, the obvious choice for Lakers officials was to call the Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic and Centinela Hospital Medical Center.

The medical team for the Lakers is headed by orthopedists Dr. Robert Kerlan and Dr. Stephen J. Lombardo of the Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic, as well as a specialist in internal medicine, Dr. Michael Mellman. These physicians attend all Lakers games and check each player at half-time and after games. They also consult with the players regarding their physical problems and their personal fitness programs between games and during the off-season. The Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic is a world leader in the diagnosis and treatment of orthopedic and sports medicine injuries and illness, treating patients from around the globe.

Numerous professional athletic organizations have chosen Centinela Hospital as their choice for top-notch healthcare including the Dodgers, Rams, California Angels, the PGA TOUR and Senior PGA TOUR. In addition, Centinela Hospital was chosen as an "Official Hospital of the 1984 Olympic Games."

Centinela Hospital's dedication to the advancement of sports medicine led to the development of Centinela Hospital's Fitness Institute in Culver City and Biomechanics Laboratory - both instrumental in sports medicine research that will ultimately prolong the careers of athletes through fitness training and injury prevention.

Centinela Hospital's Fitness Institute has developed a sophisticated battery of tests to evaluate the health and fitness of professional athletes, business executives, policemen and firemen, in addition to tests for non-athletic individuals.

Centinela Hospital Medical Center is the "Choice of Champions."

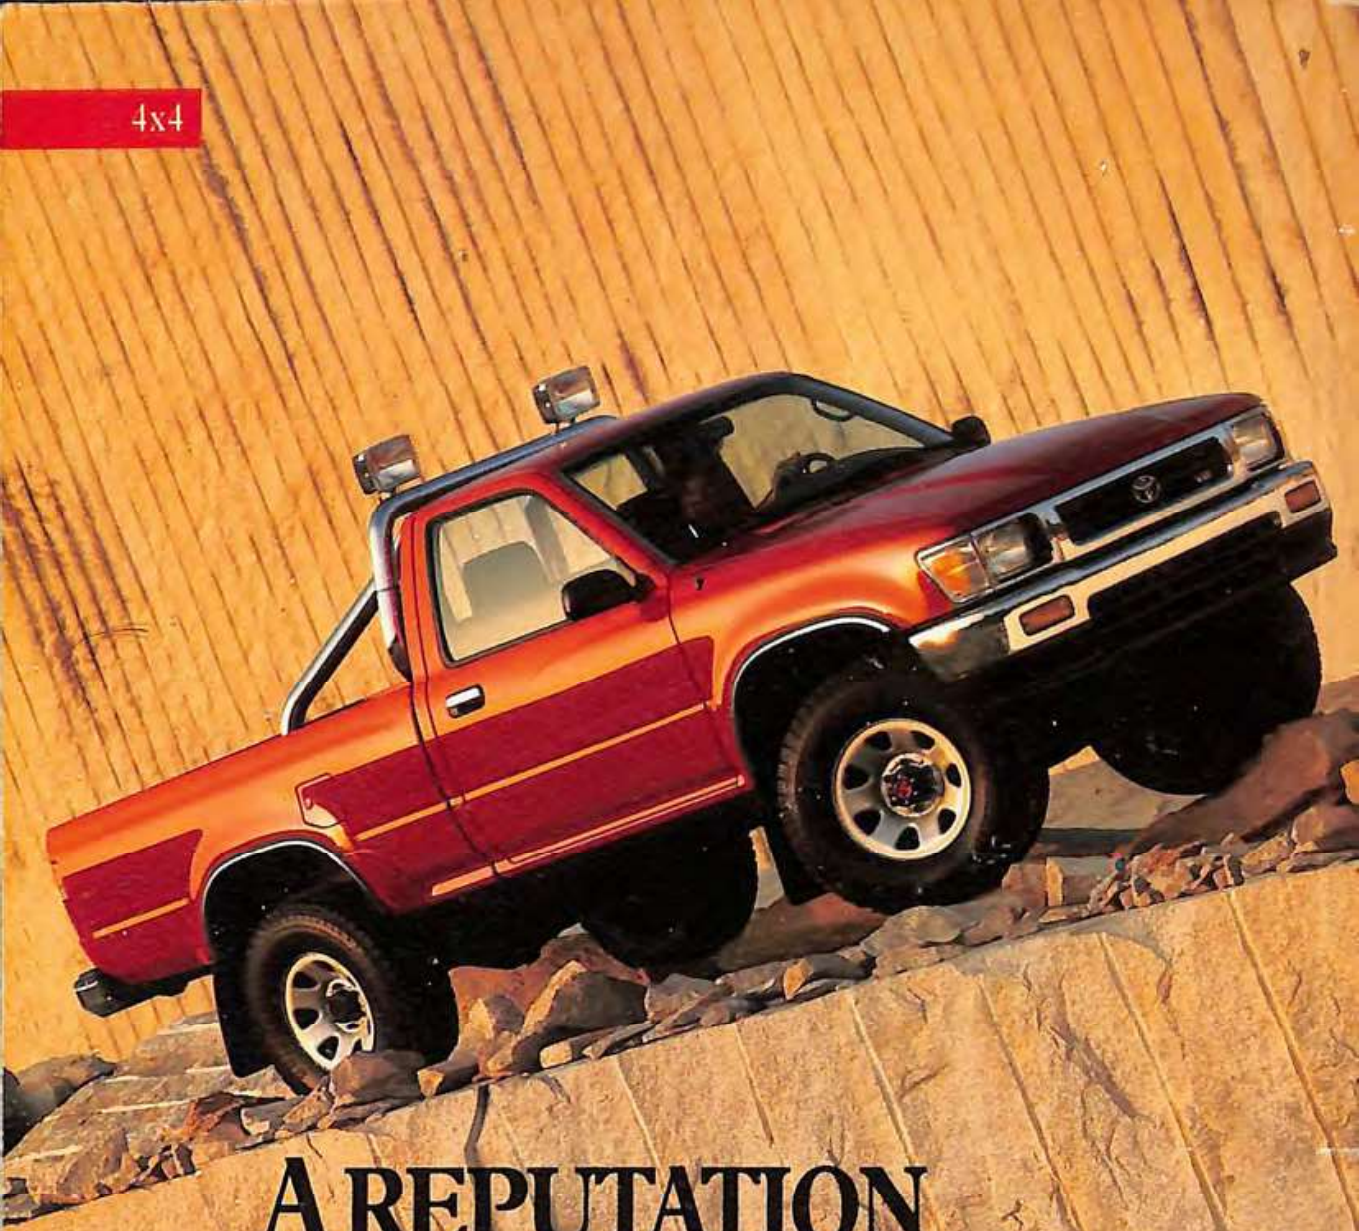
LOS ANGELES LAKERS



A REPUTATION CARVED IN STONE.

First, you feel the 3.0 liters of electronically fuel-injected power. Soon after, you experience the unique Hi-Trac independent front suspension and the proven 4-wheel drive. But then, something else kicks in. Something less tangible. As the road gets steeper. The ruts deeper. You'll feel it. Confidence. Because this 4x4 is the 1993 Standard Bed Deluxe V6 from Toyota. And its reputation is as solid as the ground you're driving on.

Call 1-800-GO-TOYOTA if you'd like a Truck brochure or the location of your nearest dealer.
